*NOTE - If you are requesting a color not on our color chart, you must supply us with a hard sample or online image. If no hard sample is supplied, there will necessarily be discrepancies due to differing computer monitors, printers and photographic lighting conditions.

1. If the part being stripped is painted a solid color, the wood underneath is likely to be less than beautiful. We cannot be responsible for this variable, so if you want a trans color on your now solid colored instrument, be advised that you may not be pleased with the result.
2. Stripping usually entails some degree of sanding. We do no more sanding than is necessary to achieve a great looking finish, but it is sanding nonetheless, and will remove wood from your instrument. If this is in any way a problem for you, then consider another course of action.
